The classics never date.

Today's newer and slimmer designs, along with the latest in pivot doors, are sure to be the classics of tomorrow.

All screens are individually made to measure enabling wider openings than traditional sliding doors.

The clean uninterrupted spans of glass combined with our modern slimline frame, delivers a less obtrusive enclosure, especially in smaller bathrooms.

The pivot doors operate smoothly on double stainless steel pins with no moving parts. Our modern designs are easy to clean with magnetic seals and full length handles.

Sometimes it's the little things you don't notice which turns
The ordinary into the extraordinary.

I Like the clever yet simple features of a semiframeless shower screen from Monaro.

Innovations such as pivoting doors that deliver a smooth and reliable two way operation with the added advantage of a "hold open" mechanism.

This same self-centering assembly ensures accurate alignment when the door is closed which delivers the luxury look of smooth sight lines.

This same style and practicality has been carried through to the gently rounded low profile frame. And to compliment your individual style, each semiframeless shower screen from Monaro is available in a range of colours and durable aluminium finishes.

Crimsafe choose 304-grade stainless steel for their security screens because it delivers exceptional strength and durability, the kind you need for serious home protection.

While 316-grade stainless steel offers slightly better corrosion resistance thanks to molybdenum, it's actually less strong and more brittle. The ductile nature of 304-grade stainless steel makes it more flexible and far less likely to crack under impact, a must for Crimsafe's patented Screw-Clamp™ technology and the overall toughness of our screens.

Simply put, 304-grade stainless steel gives you superior security and impact resistance, making it the perfect choice for Crimsafe and for your home.
